You are, without hyperbole, the most abysmal skier I have ever had the displeasure of teaching.

But I won't lie; watching you plow your stupid face into the snow every five seconds is really starting to wear on me.

So know this:
If you screw up even one more time...
I will not only discontinue your lessons, but I will quite literally end your life.

Do you hear me, Billy?
Don't think your parents can save you, either.
If you so much as stumble on this next slope...

I will
*SQUAWK*ing
KILL YOU!
